Cap. 596

2. Section 9 of the Constitution is amended by adding, immediately below subsection (3), the following subsection:—

Section 9 of the Constitution amended

“(3A) The President may, if in his opinion it is desirable so to do, by directions in writing, authorize a Minister to discharge, subject to such limitations and restrictions as he may direct, such of the functions of the office of President as he may specify, and where directions under this subsection are given the Minister specified therein shall be entitled to so discharge such functions notwithstanding the provisions of any other written law:

Provided that:—

- (a) the President shall not, by directions given under this subsection, authorize a Minister to discharge any function conferred upon the office of President by any Act of the Community where such function cannot otherwise be lawfully delegated by the President to any other person;

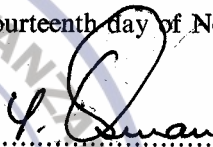

- (b) where by directions under this subsection the President has authorized a Minister to discharge any function of the office of the President, such directions shall not be construed as precluding the President from discharging such function himself."

I hereby certify that the Bill for this Act was passed by the National Assembly in accordance with the provisions of Section 51 of the Constitution.
